“The mediocre teacher tells. The good teacher explains. The superior teacher demonstrates. The great teacher inspires.”

- William Arthur Ward
Welcome

Welcome to one of the most challenging and rewarding professions: Teaching. Teaching is not only important to children, but also to parents/guardians, families, communities, and society. Teachers not only provide an academic education to students, but also teach them life skills and serve as role models. You can make a difference in the lives of the students you teach!

The rewards in teaching differ from those of other professions. The twinkle in an eye, the smile on a face, a head held higher, the excitement in a voice are all rewards reflected in our students. Another reward is the pride in a parent’s/guardian’s voice as you share positive news about their child. Acknowledge these rewards, treasure them, and keep them as reminders of the difference you make in the lives of your students.

Introduction

The Educator Support Program (ESP), the program of support and induction for new educators, is designed to elicit evidence that a beginning teacher has demonstrated teaching competence that promotes student learning. The ESP helps ensure that all beginning teachers have opportunities to strengthen their knowledge of instructional strategies, enhance their understanding of students as learners, and begin a process of lifelong learning and professional growth.

ESP activities begin on the new educator’s first day of school and continue through the first few years of teaching. The ESP Handbook is arranged so that an explanation of each activity precedes the form needed to complete the activity.

Additional support material and information for the Educator Support Program can be found on the Department of Professional Development’s website. http://www.palmbeachschools.org/staffdev/NewEducators.asp

Definition

The Educator Support Program (ESP) is the School District of Palm Beach County’s formal program of support for newly hired educators. Types of support include a support team, professional development opportunities, observations, conferences, and written and oral feedback.

Goal

We believe that student learning is directly related to teacher competence and that teachers, like students, must be continual learners. The goal of the ESP is to improve the initial teaching experience of newly hired educators thereby having a positive impact on student learning. This is accomplished by supporting the new educators in the development of instructional and other professional practices. The program components are designed to provide support to new educators as they master the criteria of the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices (FEAPs). Completion of the ESP does not guarantee continued employment in the School District of Palm Beach County.
ESP Handbook

The ESP Handbook provides new educators and their support teams with an explanation of the program.

- The ESP Handbook is located on the Professional Development website: http://www.palmbeachschools.org/staffdev/NewEducators.asp
- The ESP Handbook contains information about the ESP and forms that relate to new educator support

ESP Support Team

The ESP is implemented at the new educator’s school or work site. Each new educator has a support team comprised of the ESP contact, the mentor and the new teacher. Other people who may provide support include the principal, a buddy teacher, an online mentor, or a National Board Certified Teacher.

Principal
- Sets the tone for support
- Observes the new educator
- Verifies teaching competence based on the new educator’s demonstration of the Educator Accomplished Practices

ESP Contact (an administrator)
- Assigns a mentor who is on the same grade level or department, or teaching the same or similar subject as the new educator
- Schedules support team meetings
- Adheres to the ESP Timeline
- Observes the new educator
- Maintains ESP documents

Mentor
- Successfully completes Clinical Education Training or the Effective Mentoring Course on TrainU (within first year if not completed in previous years)
- Demonstrates knowledge of the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices
- Establishes a trusting and confidential relationship with the new educator
- Knows and shares the culture and climate of the school and any “unwritten” rules and procedures
- Adheres to the ESP Timeline
- Supports the new educator
- Completes informal observations of the new teacher and provides feedback about the observation

National Board for Professional Teaching Standards Certified Teachers (NBCTs)
- Serve as face-to-face and online mentors
- Provide tutoring for the General Knowledge Test and core Subject Area Exams

New Educator
- Teach all students using a variety of instructional strategies
- Teach bell-to-bell
- Ask for help or answers to questions
- Complete all requirements for a professional teaching certificate
In-service Points

Points are available to mentors of new educators and may only be awarded by the Department of Professional Development. To be awarded points for supporting an educator participating in ESP, each mentor needs to complete the Beginning/Aspiring Educator Program Support Mentor Log (PBSD 2411), have the log verified by the ESP Contact, and submit the log to the Department of Professional Development on or before May 1. Mentors may earn up to 60 points over a five year period for supporting new educators.

New Educator Training

Training is offered through the Educator Support Program and is presented by the New Teacher Center Resource Teachers. All training is presented in a variety of formats to model instructional strategies that educators may incorporate in their classrooms. All participants will leave with information and products that can be implemented in their classrooms the next day.

Training offered during the duty day must be approved by a school administrator.

Tips I Training

This 6-hour training contains research-based information and strategies from the work of Harry Wong, Lorraine Monroe and Ruby Payne. This training is all about classroom management. It will be offered on the following dates:

- August 9
- August 10
- September 13
- October 5
- November 1

- December 6
- January 24
- February 8
- May 2

Code of Ethics

The Code of Ethics outlines the expected behavior and deportment of all Florida educators. Carefully read the document and discuss any areas you are unsure of with your administrator or mentor.
Code of Ethics – Education Profession

6B-1.006 Principles of Professional Conduct for the Education Profession in Florida

6B-1.001 Code of Ethics of the Education Profession in Florida

1. The educator values the worth and dignity of every person, the pursuit of truth, devotion to excellence, acquisition of knowledge, and the nurture of democratic citizenship. Essential to the achievement of these standards are the freedom to learn and to teach and the guarantee of equal opportunity for all.

2. The educator's primary professional concern will always be for the student and for the development of the student's potential. The educator will therefore strive for professional growth and will seek to exercise the best professional judgment and integrity.

3. Aware of the importance of maintaining the respect and confidence of one's colleagues, of students, of parents, and of other members of the community, the educator strives to achieve and sustain the highest degree of ethical conduct.

6B-1.006 Principles of Professional Conduct for the Education Profession in Florida.

1. The following disciplinary rule shall constitute the Principles of Professional Conduct for the Education Profession in Florida.

2. Violation of any of these principles shall subject the individual to revocation or suspension of the individual educator's certificate, or the other penalties as provided by law.

3. Obligation to the student requires that the individual:
   a. Shall make reasonable effort to protect the student from conditions harmful to learning and/or to the student's mental and/or physical health and/or safety.
   b. Shall not unreasonably restrain a student from independent action in pursuit of learning.
   c. Shall not unreasonably deny a student access to diverse points of view.
   d. Shall not intentionally suppress or distort subject matter relevant to a student's academic program.
   e. Shall not intentionally expose a student to unnecessary embarrassment or disparagement.
   f. Shall not intentionally violate or deny a student's legal rights.
   g. Shall not harass or discriminate against any student on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national or ethnic origin, political beliefs, marital status, handicapping condition, sexual orientation, or social and family background and shall make reasonable effort to assure that each student is protected from harassment or discrimination.
   h. Shall not exploit a relationship with a student for personal gain or advantage.
   i. Shall keep in confidence personally identifiable information obtained in the course of professional service, unless disclosure serves professional purposes or is required by law.

4. Obligation to the public requires that the individual:
a. Shall take reasonable precautions to distinguish between personal views and those of any educational institution or organization with which the individual is affiliated.

b. Shall not intentionally distort or misrepresent facts concerning an educational matter in direct or indirect public expression.

c. Shall not use institutional privileges for personal gain or advantage.

d. Shall accept no gratuity, gift, or favor that might influence professional judgment.

e. Shall offer no gratuity, gift, or favor to obtain special advantages.

5. Obligation to the profession of education requires that the individual:

a. Shall maintain honesty in all professional dealings.

b. Shall not on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national or ethnic origin, political beliefs, marital status, handicapping condition if otherwise qualified, or social and family background deny to a colleague professional benefits or advantages or participation in any professional organization.

c. Shall not interfere with a colleague's exercise of political or civil rights and responsibilities.

d. Shall not engage in harassment or discriminatory conduct which unreasonably interferes with an individual's performance of professional or work responsibilities or with the orderly processes of education or which creates a hostile, intimidating, abusive, offensive, or oppressive environment; and, further, shall make reasonable effort to assure that each individual is protected from such harassment or discrimination.

e. Shall not make malicious or intentionally false statements about a colleague.

f. Shall not use coercive means or promise special treatment to influence professional judgments of colleagues.

g. Shall not misrepresent one's own professional qualifications.

h. Shall not submit fraudulent information on any document in connection with professional activities.

i. Shall not make any fraudulent statement or fail to disclose a material fact in one's own or another's application for a professional position.

j. Shall not withhold information regarding a position from an applicant or misrepresent an assignment or conditions of employment.

k. Shall provide upon the request of the certificated individual a written statement of specific reason for recommendations that lead to the denial of increments, significant changes in employment, or termination of employment.

l. Shall not assist entry into or continuance in the profession of any person known to be unqualified in accordance with these Principles of Professional Conduct for the Education Profession in Florida and other applicable Florida Statutes and State Board of Education Rules.

m. Shall self-report within forty-eight (48) hours to appropriate authorities (as determined by district) any arrests/charges involving the abuse of a child or the sale and/or possession of a controlled substance. Such notice shall not be considered an admission of guilt nor shall such notice be admissible for any purpose in any proceeding, civil or criminal, administrative or judicial, investigatory or adjudicatory. In addition, shall self-report any conviction, finding of guilt, withholding of adjudication, commitment to a pretrial diversion program, or entering of a plea of guilty or Nolo Contendre for any criminal offense other than a minor traffic violation within forty-eight (48) hours after the final judgment. When handling sealed and expunged records disclosed under this rule, school districts shall comply with the confidentiality provisions of Sections 943.0585(4)(c) and 943.059(4)(c), Florida Statutes.

n. Shall report to appropriate authorities any known allegation of a violation of the Florida School Code or State Board of Education Rules as defined in Section 1012.795(1), Florida Statutes.

o. Shall seek no reprisal against any individual who has reported any allegation of a violation of the Florida School Code or State Board of Education Rules as defined in Section 1012.795(1), Florida Statutes.

p. Shall comply with the conditions of an order of the Education Practices Commission.

q. Shall, as the supervising administrator, cooperate with the Education Practices Commission in monitoring the probation of a subordinate.

Florida Educator Accomplished Practices (FEAPs)

The new Florida Educator Accomplished Practices, Professional Competencies for Teachers of the Twenty-First Century, were adopted by Florida’s State Board of Education in December 2010 and specify what the State expects teachers to know and be able to do. These new FEAPs combine components from the former twelve areas.

The adoption of these competencies is part of a national transition to standards-based education. The Educator Accomplished Practices are to teachers what the Sunshine State Standards are to K-12 students.

There are a total of six Educator Accomplished Practices covering areas such as “Instructional Design and Planning,” “Assessment,” “the Learning Environment,” and “Ethics.” There are three levels of competence: pre-professional, professional, and accomplished. As educators develop on a continuum they will move through the levels. The pre-professional/emerging level is what the State expects teachers who have just received their teaching degree to know and be able to demonstrate. This is the category that applies to you. New educators should demonstrate competence at the pre-professional/emerging level. Veteran teachers who hold a five-year professional certificate should be demonstrating competence at the professional or accomplished/innovating level. Veteran educators who mentor new educators should be functioning on the accomplished level.

The Educator Support Program is based on the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices. Before you begin the program, you may want to read the following paragraphs that introduce the FEAPs. (The bold-faced words and numbers reference the Practices.)

The Florida teacher Knows the Content (3) that he/she teaches and uses appropriate Instructional Strategies (1) to deliver that content. Like any activity, success depends on good Planning (1), and planning always begins with the goals you want to accomplish. Chief among the goals for educating Florida students is that they learn to Think Critically and Solve Problems (3).

Teachers, like all professionals, must always be thinking, especially about how they can Continuously Improve (5) their instruction and their school, so that children achieve at their maximum potential. As a flexible and reflective practitioner, the Florida teacher is ready to redesign instruction when Assessment (4) data indicate that students are learning faster than anticipated or have not learned what was expected.

Teaching is a complex endeavor. There are many complicating factors. Florida teachers work in a state that is highly Diverse (3). There are students from a variety of ethnic, social, economic, linguistic, and cultural backgrounds, and the teacher needs to plan instruction that will meet the needs of all students sitting in the classroom. This requires not only an understanding of the needs of a diverse population, including students with learning disabilities, but also the ability to Communicate (5) effectively with students and their parents. Effective teachers interact with students in ways that are appropriate to their individual stages of academic, physical, and social Development and Their Learning Styles (3). Computers and other forms of Technology (3) help the teacher to individualize instruction and to use time more efficiently. This, in turn, helps to motivate and engage more students.
Motivation is critically important. If learning is to occur, the Florida teacher has to establish a Learning Environment (2) where students feel safe and positive about their learning tasks. Students learn in a classroom that functions in an orderly manner. Sometimes the Role of the Teacher (6) is to serve as an advocate for the student, removing obstacles and reinforcing opportunities at home and in the community for the student to learn. Students and parents must trust the teacher for any of this to work.

The future of this country is in your hands. Because of that, you will be held to the highest of standards, and you will always be expected to act honestly and Ethically (6) at all times and with all people, establishing a model for those whose lives you will have a permanent impact.

For more information about the FEAPs please visit: http://www.palmbeachschools.org/staffdev/FloridaEducatorAccomplishedPractices.asp.

Self-Assessment

Each ESP Participants is required to complete a self assessment. The Self-Assessment is comprised of three assessments:

- Marzano Protocol: Lesson Segments Involving Routine Events
- Marzano Protocol: Lesson Segments Addressing Content
- Marzano Protocol: Lesson Segments Enacted on the Spot

These assessments are located in the appendix of this handbook. This assessment affords the program participants the opportunity to engage in an introspective activity that will assist with benchmarking personal skill levels. After program participants complete the pre-assessment continuum, the information will be used to create the Personal Growth Plan. New educators begin this activity during preschool.
What New Teachers Need To Know

During the first few weeks of school you will have many questions that need to be answered. This activity consists of some of the most common questions, forms, and procedures that you need to learn.

As you find information for each item on the list, write a note beside the item, either defining what it is or where you can locate the information. You may want to keep a separate notebook for this information. Examples of locations are the ESP Handbook, the Faculty Handbook, the bookkeeper, head secretary, and/or guidance counselor, etc.

Personal Growth Plan

The Personal Growth Plan (IPDP) is designed to help teachers identify individual development needs in order to improve student performance, guide the participant in selecting professional development, and support the implementation of the School Improvement Plan. This document drives and verifies the support given to the new educator and provides structure for the mentor.

This plan is created in September/October, a mid-year review occurs and a final review is conducted in the late spring. The teacher, administrator and mentor collaborate to create the plan based on information from the Self-Assessment, actual teaching experience, and formal and informal observations. The plan reflects the teacher’s individual professional development needs.

- The plan consists of identification of areas of focus and FEAPs, strategies, activities, and new learning that support the areas of focus, and products or assessments that confirm demonstration of the FEAPs.
- The new educator and support team members collaborate to create the plan.
- The plan is a reflection of actual and desired outcomes and skills for the new educator.
- The new educator and support team members will meet at least two more times to review and update the plan. Depending on the needs of the new educator, the team might meet more often.
- The new educator should expect regular formal and informal observations and walkthroughs that may include pre- and post-conferences.
- The new educator should leave each conference with an understanding of what objectives and strategies he/she must accomplish.
- The new educator and support team members will sign and date the plan after the first meeting, and initial and date after each update meeting.
- New strategies, activities, and new learning can be added to the plan to support areas of focus that still need to be demonstrated. This is done at an update meeting by the support team and new educator.
- Additional Florida Educator Accomplished Practice information may be found on our website at: http://www.palmbeachschools.org/staffdev/FloridaEducatorAccomplishedPractices.asp

The IPDP Form (2011-2012) including log will be sent to ESP Contacts when available.
Formative Phase
The focus of the formative observation/conference process is developmental rather than evaluative. By contract, teachers cannot evaluate teachers. The formative phase is designed to provide feedback to help new educators strengthen those behaviors that are positively related to student achievement.

Forms of Data Collection
The tools of data collection allow the mentor and the new educator a means by which they can obtain data and start a conversation about the data that was collected. The mentor provides feedback to the new educator after each observation.

Verbatim Data
The observer gathers the exact words said by the educator and/or the students during a lesson. Electronic methods such as audio taping or videotaping (with permission) fall into this category.

Selective Verbatim
The observer sorts and records those statements which fit the categories identified by the new educator and mentor in the pre-observation conference.

Total Verbatim
The observer scripts every word of the new educator and student talk.

Anecdotal Record
The observer writes a narrative description of everything that happens in the classroom.

Interactive Data
This form of data collection provides information about the verbal and non-verbal interactions of a classroom. It gives a "snapshot" of a particular time frame.

Verbal Flow
The observer gathers information on the way the new educator responds both verbally and physically to students.

At Task
The observer gathers data for the new educator that specifies whether or not individual students were engaged in the appropriate task(s) during a classroom activity.

Artifacts
Creating artifacts is another way to stimulate discussion between the new educator and mentor and to document demonstration of the Educator Accomplished Practices. Examples of these artifacts include:

- Student Data
- Alternative Assessments
- Teacher-made Rubrics
- Procedures and Routines
- Samples of Student Work
- Open House Agendas
- Unit/Lesson Plans
- Parent Newsletter
- Classroom Map

Task Description

Planning is where educators formulate a course of action for carrying out instruction over a school year, a semester, several weeks, a week, a day, or a lesson. Decisions made by educators as they plan for instruction have an influence on all aspects of their classroom behavior and consequently, on the nature of the learning outcomes that result from instruction. If educators plan, they experience more confidence, direction, and security in their performance in the classroom.

A classroom observation will be completed for the new educator using the attached form.

Portfolio Product:

- [ ] The observation form
- [ ] Pre- and Post-Conference Guides

Directions

In this task, the mentor and the new teacher will complete a pre-conference planning guide to prepare for the upcoming observation. Upon completion of the observation, the mentor and new teacher will complete the post-conference guide to reflect on the observation.

Florida Educator Accomplished Practice (FEAP) 2 - Learning Environment

Task Name: Classroom Management System

Task Description

The teacher creates a system to manage the classroom. The system includes rules, expected behaviors, procedures, and organization of space, time, and materials. Being an expert in your content area is clearly a critical aspect of good teaching. But if there is chaos in the room, nothing else will matter.

Portfolio Product:

- Written behavior management plan
- Analysis of your plan and how the plan was implemented in your classroom
- Post Conference Guide

Directions

You should do the following:

1. Get a copy of your school rules, policies, and procedures from your mentor, department chair, or building administrator. Start thinking about how you will handle discipline, procedures, and routines.
2. Refer to Rick Smith’s Conscious Classroom Management or another resource identified by your administrator or mentor to assist you with this task.
3. Write your plan including the following components:
   - Part 1: Procedures and Routines - Establish your procedures so that daily activities become routine. On a separate piece of paper, explain in detail your procedures for the following:
     - Starting the day, taking attendance and dismissing class
     - Entry and exit procedures at the beginning and end of class, as well as during class (e.g., going to the restroom or drinking fountain)
     - Movement within the class
     - Social interaction within the class – permissible and not permissible
     - Getting and storing materials and personal items
     - Quieting the class, including signals for attention
     - Responding to interruptions from visitors and students
     - Calling on students
     - Collecting and returning homework
     - Make-up work – homework and tests
   - Part II: Discipline - Organize your thoughts, and subsequently your discipline plan, into three basic components:
     - Rules
       - What the expected behaviors are
       - Aim for five or fewer rules
• Consequences
  o What the student chooses to accept if a rule is broken
  o Describe what your actions will be when a student breaks a rule
  o Develop a progression of consequences that become more severe each time the rule is broken

• Rewards
  o What the student receives for appropriate behavior
  o Make sure you include positive consequences for students who follow the rules

4. Have your plan approved by a building administrator and verified by a signature or initials.

5. Post your plan where it is visible to all students in your classroom.

6. Write an analysis that includes:
   • How you implemented your plan in the classroom, including how you explained and practiced the plan with your class

7. Complete the Post Conference Guide with your mentor.

Task Name: Evaluation of Videotaped Teaching

Domain 1: Design Question 1, Elements 1-3; Design Question 2, Elements 6-13; Design Question 3, Elements 14-15, 17-20; Design Question 4, Elements 21-23; Design Question 5, Elements 24-32; Design Question 6, Elements 4-5; Design Question 7, Elements 33-35; Design Question 8, Elements 36-38; Design Question 9, Elements 39-41

Task Description

The teacher has a 15-30 minute lesson videotaped, evaluates his/her performance, and obtains an evaluation of the tape from a mentor. The product is the self-assessment, the observation sheet, and the teacher's summary of what he/she has learned.

Portfolio Product:

- Pre- and Post-Conference Guides
- Questions for Self-Assessment
- Narrative reflection
- Observation sheet from your mentor

Directions

You should do the following:

1. Select a lesson that will provide many opportunities to interact with your students.

2. Plan to ask questions and stimulate discussion in different ways. Some effective communication strategies you can try include:
   - Restate ideas and draw conclusions
   - Use visual, aural, and kinesthetic cues
   - Probe for learner understanding
   - Be sensitive to nonverbal cues
   - Help students articulate their ideas and thinking processes
   - Promote risk-taking and problem-solving
   - Facilitate factual recall
   - Encourage convergent and divergent thinking
   - Stimulate curiosity
   - Help students to formulate questions

3. Schedule someone to videotape the lesson.

4. Protecting the confidentiality rights of your students is very important. Depending on your school policy, you may need to secure a written authorization from the parent to videotape, or have the person doing the taping stay in the back of the room, filming the backs of heads only. Check with the appropriate person before taping as policies can differ.
5. Watch your videotape and analyze your performance, using the attached self-assessment questions. Write an answer to each of the six questions.

6. Ask your mentor to review your videotape and analysis, adding his or her comments on your strengths and areas for growth.

7. NOTE: Your mentor must rate all twelve (12) elements of the scoring rubric as “Demonstrated” in order to satisfactorily complete this task with one videotaped lesson and analysis. If fewer than 12 elements have been scored as “Demonstrated,” you will need to videotape another lesson, analyze your performance using the self-assessment, and have your mentor review your videotape and analysis again before proceeding to the final summary listed below.

8. If #7 above is completed satisfactorily, write a final reflection that addresses what you have learned about yourself and what you expect to do to grow as a teacher.

Questions for Self-Assessment

1. How was your physical presentation?
   - Clothing, hair, and footwear
   - Voice quality: volume, pitch and inflection
   - Expression: attentiveness, eye contact, and body movement

2. How is your content presentation?
   - Introduction (Do Now)
   - Questions (higher order and include appropriate pause for response)
   - Examples (use examples and non-examples)
   - Guided practice (well-designed)
   - Pace (momentum)
   - Feedback (meaningful and corrective)
   - Review for comprehension

3. How was your management of behavior?
   - Awareness of student behavior
   - Quick response to misbehavior
   - Classroom climate

Florida Educator Accomplished Practice (FEAP) 4 - Assessment

Task Name: Alternative Assessment

Domain 1: Design Question 1, Elements 1-3; Design Question 2, Elements 7, 10-13; Design Question 3, Elements 14-15, 17-20; Design Question 4, Elements 21-23; Design Question 5, Elements 26

Task Description

The teacher creates an alternative assessment for a higher-order outcome (product or performance). The assessment may be from a textbook that has been modified to meet the criteria of an alternative assessment. (Note: Alternative assessment is an assessment of learning in ways different from traditional paper-and-pencil objective testing, such as portfolio, project, or self-assessment.)

Portfolio Product:

- Alternative instructions that you provided to the students
- A scoring instrument
- Two samples of student work
- Narrative discussion
- Post Conference Guide

Directions

You should do the following:

1. Select a higher-order outcome based on a taxonomy, a theory of thinking skills or an accepted content guide for the assessment domain.

2. Develop a task to measure students' learning for that outcome. The task may be either a product or a performance.

3. Write the instructions you will provide to students to maximize their success. Be sure to tell them everything they need to know about what you expect so there will be no surprises when you grade their work. This will make your instructions comprehensive.

4. Determine what scoring method you want to use for the task. For example, a checklist, rating scale, or a rubric.

5. Be prepared to justify your choice of method of scoring, based on the feedback needed for students and the purpose of the task to determine inferences about the assessment domain in your narrative discussion.

6. Create your scoring instrument.

7. Assign the task and grade it.

8. Select at least two work samples from your students -- one that was well done (met or exceeded your criteria) and one that required further correction/revision to meet your criteria or one that failed to meet your criteria even after additional work.

9. Write a reflection on your work. Include the following in your narrative discussion:
   o Why did you select the assessment method used?
   o Why did you select those samples? In your view, what made one excellent and one less than what you expected - at least initially?
   o What did you learn from this assessment? How might you do it differently the next time?

10. Complete the Post Conference Guide with your mentor.

Florida Educator Accomplished Practice (FEAP) 5A - Role of the Teacher

Task Name: Parent/Teacher/Student Conference

Domain 1: Design Question 1, Elements 2-3; Design Question 3, Element 16; Design Question 8, Element 38; Design Question 9, Elements 39-40

Task Description

Conferencing with parents takes preparation and poise. For this task you are to prepare for and conduct two conferences, including the student, if appropriate. These conferences should be attended by an administrator, counselor or mentor who will provide you with feedback.

Portfolio Product:

- Pre-conference plan for each conference—total of two.
- Conference Record with a summary of items discussed and agreed upon at each conference—total of two.
- Post Conference, for each conference, with your support team member (administrator, guidance counselor or mentor) who attended the meeting—total of two.

Directions

The conference should be attended by a member of your support team. You should do the following for the conference:

1. Schedule a time that is convenient for all parties concerned.
2. Develop a pre-conference plan that includes:
   a. Purpose of the meeting
   b. Necessary materials
   c. Proposed plan for intervention
3. Submit to your mentor the completed Pre-Conference Parent/Guardian-Teacher Conference Tool and discuss with him/her.
4. Conduct the conference that will include:
   o An analysis of the student's progress, including both strengths and weaknesses
   o Your decision about whether the student will participate in the conference, including why, and how (if he/she will participate)
   o Targeted samples of student work to support your conclusions about the student's performance
   o Student's grades
   o Clear and appropriate suggestions for improvement and reinforcement in the needed areas
   o Specific suggestions of strategies for parent involvement
   o Suggestions from parents/guardian for specific help from teachers
Questions about the student's environment outside of school (e.g., family circumstances, community environment, extra curricular activities, health and economic conditions) that may influence student's life and learning

5. After the conference, you will provide the following:
   - Copy of the completed Parent/Guardian-Teacher Conference Tool.
   - Summary/description of student work and grades that were shared with the parent/guardian
   - A reflection of your performance in the conference
   - Identify appropriate improvement strategies for future conferences

6. After the conference, you will meet with your mentor, provide your evidence, and both the post-observation guide and the observation sheet will be completed at this time.

Task Name: Veteran Teacher Observation

Task Description

The beginning teacher visits the classroom of a veteran teacher to observe for classroom strategies in a variety of different areas. The veteran teacher should be identified by the administration as one who has an exemplary classroom and effective teaching strategies. As a teacher, you are expected to be actively involved in improving your practice. This task requires that you utilize an observation tool and complete a reflection on your experience.

Portfolio Product:

- Veteran Teacher Observation Tool
- Brief reflection
- Post Observation Guide with mentor (and veteran teacher if possible)

Directions

You should do the following:

1. Talk to your Department Chair or ESP contact to discuss which veteran teacher you should observe. Contact the veteran teacher to set up a convenient time for the observation. Pre-read the Veteran Teacher Observation Tool prior to your observation.

2. Observe the veteran teacher for a minimum of 20 minutes to complete the tool.

3. Reflect on your observation experience and note any questions you have for the veteran teacher.

4. Complete the Post Conference Guide with your mentor (and the veteran teacher if possible).

What do you notice about the classroom environment? Is student work displayed? Are there visuals that enhance or support learning?

Do you see evidence of routines and procedures? Give Examples.

What classroom management techniques are in evidence? Are these techniques respectful?

What do you notice about transitions from one activity to another?
What evidence, if any, do you see of differentiated instruction in the classroom?

In what ways does the teacher use questioning techniques in this classroom? Is there evidence of higher order questions that support independent learning and problem solving at various cognitive levels?

Pre-Conference Planning Guide
This form is completed by the new educator and discussed with the observer prior to classroom observations.

Post-Conference Guide
This tool is required for all EAP observations and portfolio submissions. The new educator and mentor jointly complete the Post-Conference Planning guide after an observation or portfolio submission. This is an important component of support and should promote dialogue between the observer and the new educator. When complete, the Post-Conference Guide will guide the new educator and mentor in future observations. The new educator will use the findings as a guide in planning instruction and improving professional practice. Research indicates that one of the ways adults learn best and also retain the knowledge they learn is by consciously reflecting on their learning. Therefore, the mentor should provide time for the new educator to reflect on the data collected and also time for a discussion of the data, prior to providing constructive feedback. Feedback should be delivered in a manner that supports individual learning and development. Feedback is the most powerful tool for assisting learners in meeting challenges.

ESP Survey
Feedback regarding the ESP is essential to maintain an effective support program for new educators. Although the survey does not impact verification of teacher competence, it is required as part of the ESP documentation of support. The new educator completes the entire ESP Survey online. The survey will be emailed to the new educator from the Department of Professional Development at the beginning of May 2012.

Final Evaluation
The final observation is completed at the end of support and prior to the ESP Contact submitting the completed ESP paperwork to the Department of Professional Development. An administrator conducts this evaluation.

Competency Verification Report
The Competency Verification Report is the form that verifies teacher competence. It is completed by the ESP Contact and the principal, and reviewed and signed by the new educator. It is returned to the Department of Professional Development. In order to check has on the form, a teacher must demonstrate competence in all areas. If the teacher’s CTAS has no areas of concern, then the teacher has demonstrated teacher competence. Check has not if the teacher has not demonstrated competence in all areas or if there are concerns on the CTAS.

Directions for Returning Materials
The ESP Contact returns the following documents:

- Professional Development Plan (IPDP) and Log (The IPDP Form (2011-2012) including log will be sent to ESP Contacts when available.
- Competency Verification Report

PONY the above documents to Dr. Gina Stafford, Professional Development.

Design Question #1: What will I do to establish and communicate learning goals, track student progress, and celebrate success?

1. Providing Clear Learning Goals and Scales (Rubrics)

   The teacher provides a clearly stated learning goal accompanied by scale or rubric that describes levels of performance relative to the learning goal.

   Scale
