<td>1a: Demonstrating Knowledge of Content and Pedagogy</td>
<td>Teacher displays little understanding of the subject or structure of the discipline, or of content-related pedagogy.</td>
<td>Teacher’s content and pedagogical knowledge represents basic understanding but does not extend to connections with other disciplines or to possible student misconceptions.</td>
<td>Teacher demonstrates solid understanding of the content and its prerequisite relationships and connections with other disciplines. Teacher’s instructional practices reflect current pedagogical knowledge.</td>
<td>Teacher’s knowledge of the content and pedagogy is extensive, showing evidence of a continuing search for improved practice. Teacher actively builds on knowledge of prerequisites and misconceptions when describing instruction or seeking causes for student misunderstanding.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1b: Demonstrating Knowledge of Students</td>
<td>Teacher makes little or no attempt to acquire knowledge of students’ backgrounds, skills, or interests, and does not use such information in planning.</td>
<td>Teacher demonstrates partial knowledge of students’ backgrounds, skills, and interests, and attempts to use this knowledge in planning for the class as a whole.</td>

<td>Teacher demonstrates thorough knowledge of students’ backgrounds, skills, and interests, and uses this knowledge to plan for individual student learning.</td>

<tr>
<td>1c: Selecting Instructional Goals</td>
<td>Teacher’s goals represent trivial learning, are unsuitable for students, or are stated only as instructional activities, and they do not permit viable methods of assessment.</td>
<td>Teacher’s goals are of moderate value or suitability for students in the class, consisting of a combination of goals and activities, some of which permit viable methods of assessment.</td>
<td>Teacher’s goals represent valuable learning and are suitable for most students in the class; they reflect opportunities for integration and permit viable methods of assessment.</td>
<td>Teacher’s goals reflect high level learning related to curriculum frameworks and standards; they are adapted, where necessary, to the needs of individual students, and permit viable methods of assessment.</td>

<td>Teacher is unaware of school or district resources available either for teaching or for students who need them.</td>
<td>Teacher displays limited knowledge of school or district resources available either for teaching or for students who need them.</td>
<td>Teacher is fully aware of school and district resources available for teaching, and knows how to gain access to school and district resources for students who need them.</td>
<td>Teacher seeks out resources for teaching in professional organizations and in the community, and is aware of resources available for students who need them, in the school, the district, and the larger community.</td>

<td>The various elements of the instructional design do not support the stated instructional goals or engage students in meaningful learning, and the lesson or unit has no defined structure.</td>
<td>Some of the elements of the instructional design support the stated instructional goals and engage students in meaningful learning, while others do not. Teacher’s lesson or unit has a recognizable structure.</td>
<td>Most of the elements of the instructional design support the stated instructional goals and engage students in meaningful learning, and the lesson or unit has a clearly defined structure.</td>
<td>All of the elements of the instructional design support the stated instructional goals, engage students in meaningful learning, and show evidence of student input. Teacher’s lesson or unit is highly coherent and has a clear structure.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1f: Assessing Student Learning</td>
<td>Teacher’s approach to assessing student learning contains no clear criteria or standards, and lacks congruence with the instructional goals. Teacher has no plans to use assessment results in designing future instruction.</td>
<td>Teacher’s plan for student assessment is partially aligned with the instructional goals and includes criteria and standards that are not entirely clear or understood by students. Teacher uses the assessment to plan for future instruction for the class as a whole.</td>
<td>Teacher’s plan for student assessment is aligned with the instructional goals at least nominally, with clear assessment criteria and standards that have been communicated to students. Teacher uses the assessment to plan for groups of students or individuals.</td>
<td>Teacher’s plan for student assessment is fully aligned with the instructional goals, containing clear assessment criteria and standards that are not only understood by students, but also show evidence of student participation in their development. Teacher’s students monitor their own progress in achieving the goals.</td>

<td>Teacher is aware of student behavior, has established clear standards of conduct, and responds to student misbehavior in ways that are appropriate and respectful of the students.</td>

I. Introduction

History of the Evaluation Process

With the agreement between UTW and the Board of Education at the conclusion of negotiations for the 2008-2009 Teacher Employment Agreement, a Memo of Understanding was written, which directed the appointment of a committee made up of United Teachers of Wichita (UTW) and administration to develop a teacher evaluation tool based upon Charlotte Danielson’s model. A committee of fourteen (14) district employees was established to consider different adaptations of Danielson's model. The committee established a concept statement and defined criteria to be used to develop a model for Wichita Public Schools (WPS) and outlines the tasks and the criteria to be used for the Wichita Model.

Concept Statement

Our task is twofold: first, to develop and recommend an evaluation tool for teachers* that consistently and accurately assesses the quality of a teacher's performance in a manner that encourages significant professional growth, and second, to ensure this consistency and accuracy by providing adequate training in the evaluation process and insisting on high levels of accountability for all stakeholders.

Specifically, this evaluation tool will:

- Improve/support quality instruction as defined by the Danielson model,
- Efficiently and effectively document performance,
- Establish trust through open, honest, and meaningful communication,
- Encourage self-reflection,
- Provide adequate resources, and
- Be easily adapted to different job descriptions,

So that as a district, we strengthen professional compliance with state statute, improve quality instruction for students, strengthen teaching as a profession, and celebrate student achievement and learning.

*Teachers shall refer to all positions covered under the Teachers Employment Agreement (TEA).
Kansas Statute 72-9003
Policy of Personnel Evaluation

- “Every employee* in the first two consecutive school years of employment shall be evaluated at least one time per semester by not later than the 60th school day of the semester.”

- “During the third and fourth years of employment, every employee shall be evaluated at least one time each school year by not later than February 15. After the fourth year of employment, every employee shall be evaluated at least once in every three years not later than February 15 of the school year in which the employee is evaluated.”

*Employee is defined as all licensed employees of school district and of nonpublic schools and all instructional and administrative employees of area vocations-technical schools.

Probationary Teacher

A probationary teacher is defined as:

- One who is within their first three consecutive years of teaching in Wichita Public Schools; or

- Has achieved tenure in another Kansas school district and is within their first two years of teaching in Wichita Public Schools.

Tenure Teacher

A tenure teacher is defined as:

- One who has completed three consecutive years of teaching in Wichita Public Schools and was offered and accepted a contract for the fourth year of teaching; or

- Has achieved tenure in another Kansas School district, completed two consecutive years of teaching in Wichita Public Schools and officer and accepted a contract for a third year of teaching.

- Teachers who have achieved tenure status in USD259 and have been rehired.
Enhancing Professional Practice

A Framework for Teaching, 2nd Edition

By: Charlotte Danielson

Charlotte Danielson’s work, Enhancing Professional Practice: A Framework for Teaching, 2nd Edition, is the conceptual basis of the Wichita Public Schools Evaluation System. This framework:
