MISSISSIPPI EARNS “C” FOR TEACHER EFFECTIVENESS POLICIES

New report from the National Council on Teacher Quality gives Mississippi improved grades for policies that support effective teaching

January 30, 2014 (Washington, DC) — The National Council on Teacher Quality today released its seventh annual State Teacher Policy Yearbook, which includes a 360-degree analysis of every state law, rule and regulation that shapes the effectiveness of the teaching profession in Mississippi.

Mississippi received an overall grade of C, improved from a D+ in 2011, the last year the state’s full portfolio of teacher policies was graded. The average grade for 2013 across all 50 states and the District of Columbia is a “C-”.

NCTQ President Kate Walsh said, "This year’s State Teacher Policy Yearbook proves that it is both possible and practical for states to drive teacher effectiveness policy. Many states once argued that raising the bar for teacher preparation, licensing and evaluation and tying personnel decisions to results for kids couldn’t be done. Now these policies are on the books in increasing numbers of states across the nation."

Key Yearbook Findings

Teacher effectiveness is increasingly being factored into personnel decisions:

- Teacher evaluation. Mississippi is one of 28 states that requires annual evaluations for all teachers and is one of 35 states that requires student achievement/growth to be an important criterion in evaluating teacher effectiveness.
- Tying performance to tenure. In Mississippi, teacher tenure decisions are made virtually automatically after only one year, with no consideration of classroom effectiveness.
- Dismissing ineffective teachers. Mississippi is one of 22 states that does not articulate that classroom ineffectiveness is grounds for a teacher’s dismissal.
- Prohibiting “last in, first out” policies. Mississippi makes no effort to require districts to consider teacher performance (rather than only seniority) in making layoff decisions.

Progress is being made in setting higher standards for the preparation of teachers, but there is much more to be done:

- Admission requirements. Mississippi is one of only seven states requiring a minimum GPA of 3.0 for admission to teacher preparation programs.

Yearbook Goal Areas	Mississippi’s 2013 Grades
Area 1: Delivering Well-Prepared Teachers	C-
Area 2: Expanding the Teacher Pool	C+
Area 3: Identifying Effective Teachers	C-
Area 4: Retaining Effective Teachers	C
Area 5: Dismissing Ineffective Teachers	D+
Average Overall Grade	C

- Science of reading. While Mississippi's teacher preparation requirements address the science of reading, it is one of 34 states that does not administer an adequate test to ensure elementary teachers' knowledge of effective reading instruction.
- Elementary teacher preparation. Mississippi's content tests for elementary school licensure fail to ensure teachers know all of the core content they will teach.
- Secondary teacher preparation. Mississippi also has significant loopholes in its secondary teacher licensing requirements. Mississippi should require that all secondary teachers pass a content test in every subject they are licensed or have an endorsement to teach.
- Special education teachers. Mississippi is one of 28 states that offers only a K-12 special education license; these licenses wrongly presume special education teachers do not need to master grade and subject specific content knowledge.

There has been little action on policies aimed at recruiting and retaining the best teachers in the profession across the states:

- Use of evaluations for improving practice. Unlike most states, Mississippi requires that all teachers receive feedback on their evaluations, mandates improvement plans for teachers with poor evaluation ratings, and requires professional development for all teachers to be informed by evaluation findings.
- Support for performance pay. Mississippi permits performance pay but does not support differential pay for teachers to teach in high-need schools or shortage subject areas.

Very few states are providing flexible pathways into teaching:

- Alternate routes. Mississippi's alternative pathways to teacher certification are in need of improvement.
